LIFE TERMS FOR BOYS IN RAPE CASE

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—All four white youths convicted of raping a Negro coed were handed life prison sentences today by Circuit Judge W. May Walker.

The electric chair would have been automatic if the jury had returned a verdict of guilty without a recommendation of mercy. No white man ever has gone to the chair in Florida or any other state for raping a Negro.

In pronouncing sentence the white-haired 54-year-old jurist told the four he had never imposed less than a death sentence or life imprisonment on conviction of rape.

The four youths paled as the sentence was pronounced but showed no other trace of emotion.

Under Florida law, parole from a life sentence is possible after six months but lifers convicted of rape customarily serve at least 10 years before being considered for parole.

The four drawing life sentences were William (Ted) Collingsworth, 23, a telephone company lineman; David Ervin Beagles, a husky 18-year-old high school senior; Patrick (Gene) Scarborough, a 20-year-old Air Force man and Ollie Stoutamire, a skinny, pale-faced 16-year-old high school dropout.

He asked each of them in turn if they had anything to say before he pronounced sentence. Each said "No sir."

Afterward he asked each of the four if they had ever heard of the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Cornplanters Win Two Big Awards Over Weekend

The Cornplanters Drum and Bugle Corps could term last weekend a successful one—and for more reasons than one. Not only did they take two first places in parade competition, they had to knock off the Class B state champions of last year to do it.

In conjunction with a parade held during the annual Laurel Festival at Brookville Friday evening, the Cornplanters outdistanced the Class B Champions, the Ebensburg Legionnaires, by a score of 92.3 to 88.8.

The parade was judged by the Ali-American Judging Association. Present at the parade was the chief judge of the Pennsylvania chapter who remarked "he would like to see the corps on the field, this year" the corps has a very nice swing. The color guard also received an excellent rating by the chief judge.

The cornplanters wound up the weekend by taking on all available competition at the parade held at the Strawberry Festival in Brant N. Y. Sunday afternoon. The Corps nosed out such crack New York State outfits as the Hamburg Kingmen, the Murraysmen of Dunkirk, and the Flying Dutchmen from Dunkirk. All three of these corps will be present for the July 4th standstill competition in Warren this year.

Next week the Cornplanters will defend their 28th District American Legion title in Oil City.

Royal Couple Heading For Meeting With President Ike

By BELMAN MORIN
CHICOUTIMI, Que. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is beginning to talk with workmen, housewives and other people not on the official reception lists for her tour of Canada.

She and Prince Philip are moving through the fast-growing industrial region of Saguenay, northwest of Quebec City, heading for a meeting with President Eisenhower and the official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway Friday. They are visiting aluminum paper mills and hydroelectric power plants today. They have already taken a close look at other evidences of Canada's rapid industrial development including a spectacular open-cut iron mine on the remote edge of Labrador.

Republican Leaders Again Review Governor's Budget Proposal With Idea of Cut

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence's record spending proposals for the next two years were the subject today of a review by the full Republican membership of the Legislature.

The Republican-controlled Senate Appropriations Subcommittee already has estimated that more than 40 million dollars can be pared from the governor's proposed 1959-61 budget of some $1,870,000,000.

Some GOP leaders have said the total cuts might reach 60 million. Sen. James H. Berger, Senate majority leader, said the sentiments of the full membership would be considered before the party settled on a final figure.

The Republicans have refused to lend any support for some 200 million dollars worth of new tax measures pending in the House until they are satisfied all the fat has been trimmed from the budget.

Republican leaders suggested last week that the administration's request for new taxes could be reduced by raising the estimated revenue from present levies.

But Lawrence flatly rejected the proposal.

Another prominent Democrat, House speaker H. G. Andrews, said over the weekend the plan to raise revenue estimates might have some merit.

"We don't know, for instance, how much the tax (3 1/2 per cent sales levy) on services is going to bring in," Andrews said.

The administration is standing firm on its present estimate that existing taxes will return $1,663,512,354, some 200 million short of the budget proposals.

The hassle is expected to delay at least for another week any House action on new tax measures.

However, the House this week is expected to act on the governor's highway safety program, billboard control bill and possibly the proposed constitutional amendments lowering the voting age to 18 and permitting governors to succeed themselves.

The Senate is reaching a showdown on proposed pay increases for county officials and a series of constitutional amendments, the most controversial of which is a proposed amendment to put justices of the peace and aldermen on a straight salary, rather than on a fee basis.

Compromise Suggested In Steel Negotiations

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel industry negotiators resumed efforts today to reach a new management union work agreement. Both sides denied knowledge of a reported effort by federal officials to settle the dispute.

"All I know is what I read in the papers," said David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America. "No one has contacted me about anything."

The current three-year contract in the basic steel industry expires eight days from now. If no agreement is reached by then, 500,000 union members will almost certainly strike in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

The negotiations, which started May 5, are still deadlocked. Although President Eisenhower has declared the government should maintain an official hands-off policy, it was learned in Washington the government was sounding out both sides on the compromise suggestion. dust and fierce heat, Elizabeth asked to speak with six members of a pit crew. Brawny miners and truck drivers, their faces caked with dust and sweat and holding hard hats under their arms, chatted with her and Philip, answering questions.

Ignoring her time schedule, she remained on the floor of the mine 250 feet below ground level well after the party was due to depart. Dust powdered her chestnut hair where it curled out from under her small hat. Her white cheeks turned the color of television makeup. Finally she held out a white-gloved hand. The miners rubbed at each other shyly. They glanced their hands on their coveralls and shook her hand.

The Queen and Philip have now seen some of the wildest and most beautiful country in the world.

Many Bills Await Action By Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress heads into its annual end-of-June scramble this week to pass as many as possible of its big money bills before the new fiscal year begins July 1.

The House already has acted on most of the annual appropriations bills, but many still lie ahead for the Senate. Compromises of Senate and House versions also must be worked out.

Even after other money matters are straightened out, Congress still faces political battles over such major issues as the foreign aid program, an anti-facketeering labor bill, civil rights legislation and possibly some action on federal aid to education.

Threats of presidential vetoes already have forced Democratic whittling of spending programs in such fields as housing and airports—a situation which brought criticism of Democratic leaders Sunday from two liberal groups.

But while President Eisenhower has managed to hold down spending in some fields, the decimated Republican ranks in Congress lack the power to force action on some of his requests.

Enough conservation Democrats are willing to join the Republicans to make vetoes stick. But not enough of them are available to get the wheels moving on increases in the gasoline tax and postal rates Eisenhower requested.

While he seems likely to get an increase in the national debt limit he has asked for, Eisenhower may have to worry along without any immediate raise in the 4 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on long-term government bonds.

The National Committee for an Effective Congress said in a report that Democrats have lost their head of steam from last year's election victories and have become "prisoners of the spending issue."

Greenville Church To Have Education Unit

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A lady driving a bulldozer broke ground yesterday for a new $200,000 educational unit to be built by the First Baptist Church of Greenville.

Mrs. C. H. Russell, a member of the congregation and the operator of a contracting business founded by her husband, was at the controls of the big earth-moving machine that was used instead of the traditional ground-breaking spade.

Order Curbs Further Questioning of Coyle

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Judge Raymond Pace Alexander today continued his order curbing the questioning of John J. Coyle by the police and the district attorney.

At the same time he cautioned Coyle's attorney, Mary Alice Duffy, to stop making public accusations against the police and Dist. Atty. Victor H. Blanc. She charged last week that Coyle was mistreated, that she was denied access to her client, and that the case generally was mishandled by authorities.

Coyle, 24, is charged with his slain brother, William, 22, of killing James F. Kane, a Philadelphia policeman, June 5.

COURT FIGHT MAY DECIDE LONG STATUS

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana, thrown into political turmoil by her ailing governor three weeks ago, faces momentous questions, some of which may be answered this week:

1. Is Gov. Earl K. Long legally insane?
2. If not, can he get out of a state mental hospital?
3. Meanwhile, who is the state's chief executive?

Physicians who visited Long Sunday at Southeast Louisiana Hospital, 54 miles east of the capital, reported he was "quite co-operative and his general condition satisfactory."

Five days ago, the governor, cursing and fighting, was taken to the mental hospital in Mandeville, La. He was arrested near here after he had sped away from a New Orleans hospital.

Dr. Chester Williams, coroner for East Baton Rouge Parish, and a psychiatrist said Long was suffering from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution. Long was ordered taken to the mental hospital for observation and treatment.

Long, who was on his way to the capital to resume executive powers when he was arrested, has engaged counsel to protect his legal rights. Joseph Arthur Sims of Hammond, La., was named his chief counsel.

Sims, who conferred with the governor for an hour Sunday, said Long apparently was in good health and spirits. He would not say what legal action was planned.

Speculation centered on two possible courses: a sanity hearing here, where the coroner took the committal action; or a court hearing in Covington where the governor, claiming he was illegally restrained of his liberty in nearby Mandeville, might sue for a writ of habeas corpus.

During Long's sojourn in Galveston, Lt. Gov. Lethor Frasier automatically became acting governor.

Brunette From Delaware County Miss Pennsylvania

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — A 21-year-old lovely brunette from Delaware County has been named Miss Pennsylvania of 1959.

Lois Janet Fierch, who is five feet five, weighs 128 and measures 32-24-36, was selected Sunday from a field of five finalists.

Lois, whose home is in Springfield, now will compete for Miss America honors at the annual pageant in Atlantic City in September.

As Miss Pennsylvania, Lois will receive among other awards, a scholarship totaling $3,000.

Actually, Lois entered the contest as Miss Centre County, since, at the time, she was a student at Penn State University. She graduated this spring and has been offered a teaching position in the Lower Merion Township school system in Montgomery County.

Eighteen-year-old Susan Metzger of Lewisburg, who was Miss Susquehanna Valley, was runner-up. Carol Jean Whitliffe, also 18, of Stroudsburg, who entered as Miss Pocono Mountains, finished third.

The two other finalists were Margaret Jean McPherson, 19, of New Park, Miss Greater York, and Gini Loh Heine, 18, of Lancaster, Miss Lancaster County.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unrest inside Red China is at an all-time peak, Walter S. Robertson has told Congress.

Robertson, retiring assistant secretary of state for the Far East, said he doubted that the Peiping regime could be overthrown unless its army rebels.

But, he added "It is not at all visionary to hope that this unrest may get to the point that the army might well go over to the side of the people."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee made public over the weekend a censored testimony which Robertson and others gave in closed sessions during the last two months.

34 Reported Dead Or Missing After Storm in Canada

ESCOMINAC, N. B. (AP)—At least 34 fishermen were dead or missing today as searching planes scoured the Northumberland Strait for survivors of the weekend storm that battered the Gulf of St. Lawrence fishing fleet.

Twelve men were known dead and 22 were listed as missing.

The Royal Canadian Air Force reported 22 derelict boats were spotted by search planes Sunday along the 30-mile coastline between Point Escuminac and Richibucto. There were no signs of life.

The storm, described as the worst in 30 years, caught at least 50 salmon boats as it lashed the strait between New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The fleet was out in force to meet the heaviest salmon run in 10 years.

Fishermen accused the weather bureau of failing to warn them of the approaching storm.

The Halifax Weather Bureau said gale warnings went out Friday night, but the fleet was out by then.

Theatrical World Pays Tribute to Barrymore

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The theatrical world pays final homage today to Ethel Barrymore.

Regium Mass will be recited for the great actress in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills.

Miss Barrymore, 79, died of a heart ailment Thursday. She will be buried in Calvary Cemetery beside her brothers, John and Lionel.

About 300 mourners attended recitation of the Rosary for Miss Barrymore Sunday night in the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Red Party Paper Blasts Elvis Presley

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Elvis Presley and juke boxes and disc jockeys earned a full page of denunciation in Austria's Communist party newspaper Sunday.

While the recess of the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva got only two paragraphs in Volkstimme's enlarged Sunday edition, Elvis rated a big picture and the heading "Teen-ager — The Biggest Business."

"This business of disc jockeys and the juke boxes is a dirty one," said Volkstimme. "They trade and profit on such sweet sentiments as love and especially loneliness."

Beauty, poise and personality were some of the factors that entered into the judging and the more than three score girls were closely matched in all three categories according to the judges. Judges for the event included: Ralph Blakeley, Merle Kremer, Al Aquist, Mrs. William E. Rice and Mrs. Robert Walsh.

Warren's Barbershop Chorus entertained the large crowd that gathered on the front lawn of the Municipal Building at 8:30. Promptly at 9:00 LeRoy Schneek, master of ceremonies, called the first contestant to the microphone and the bustiness of judging was underway.

Each girl was interviewed briefly and then promenade around the stage for inspection by the judges.

Upon conclusion of the judging, the MC called Miss Joan Dunham, Miss Warren County of 1958 to the stage and the personable and lovely reigning queen previewed some of the excitement that lies in store for the five girls selected as finalists.

The Jaycee Committee headed by Bob Eames and Hugh Siggins handled the tabulation of the judges' score sheets rapidly and efficiently.

The large crowd, hushed by tension and anticipation, listened as the numbers of the five victorious girls were called out and each girl was escorted to the platform.

Miss Warren County of 1959 will be selected from among the five finalists on the eve of the 4th of July during a pageant on the front lawn of Beatty School. The Queen and her court will preside over all the Celebration events.

Penn's Publishers Planning Conference

HARRISBURG (AP)—The four-day summer conference and goodwill tour sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn. starts Thursday with a steamship cruise out of Baltimore.

More than 100 Pennsylvania publishers and members of their families are expected to board the ship for a cruise down the Chesapeake to Norfolk Harbor and Virginia Beach.

A ship-and-shore program will mix newspaper business with recreational activities.

Roland L. Adams of the Bethlehem Globe-Times will describe a recent trip to Africa as a highlight of the conference's annual banquet.

Lemuel Schofield Estate Faces Suit For Income Taxes

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — The estate of Lemuel Schofield, against which the government has a million dollar tax lien, has been valued at over half a million dollars.

A final accounting of the estate is scheduled for Wednesday in the Chester County Orphans Court.

The government has charged that Schofield, prominent Philadelphia criminal trial lawyer, didn't pay any income taxes for the last eight years of his life. A grand jury investigated and said there was criminal misconduct within the Internal Revenue Service. It did not return any indictments.

Schofield died in 1955 near his Phoenixville farm. The value of the estate was set Saturday by its administrator, W. Bradley Ward, former Schofield partner. He said disbursements and expenses left a net balance of $339,000.

Schofield in 1930 willed his entire estate to his wife from whom he became estranged before his death.

TURNPIKE TRAGEDY
JEANNETTE, Pa. (AP) — An auto overturned on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near here Saturday killing Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Point of Richmond, Va.

More than 400 persons, representing some 20 denominations heard debate on the proposal yesterday at the association's 90th annual convention. The vote was deferred to the 1960 meeting. Fred M. Aubel, of Greenville, was elected president for the 17th successive year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter today gave President Eisenhower an hour-long report on the deadlocked Geneva foreign ministers talks, now recessed until July 13.

After the conference, Herter confirmed he will go on nationwide television and radio Tuesday night to tell the American people about the thus-far futile efforts to reach agreement with the Soviet Union regarding Berlin and other problems.

Herter told newsmen at the White House the time for his broadcast had not been definitely set.

Herter said he reported to Eisenhower in general terms and that they discussed "just where we are" in efforts to ease East-West tensions.

A reporter asked about prospects for an eventual summit conference of the Western heads of government with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"That is something I just don't want to go into at the present time," Herter replied.

Then he went on to say that at no time during the six weeks of Geneva talks did the West (Turn to Page Twelve)

Gracious Iowa Woman Is Chosen New Mrs. America

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—A gracious Des Moines, Iowa, housewife, who couldn't believe she was chosen Mrs. America, strove today to get used to her new role in a busy year-long reign.

Margaret Priebe, 36, won the rivalry for No. 1 homemaker of the nation. She will spend much of her time traveling in that capacity while her husband, L. Clarke Priebe, and the couple's parents in Des Moines take care of the Priebe's four children.

"I know it's going to be a big job but I have a very cooperative husband and I'm sure it will work out," the 5-foot-8, black-haired former schoolteacher said.

Mrs. Priebe was crowned Saturday night by the outgoing Mrs. America, Helen Giesseoff Cleveland, Ohio. Giesseoff said he was "happy to get my wife back."

Mrs. America will go to New York Thursday for television appearances. Her husband will leave Tuesday for Des Moines and their children, Margaret, 15, Gregory, 9, Douglas, 7, and Karen Jane, 3.

With Mrs. Priebe's title went a glittering array of prizes ranging from household utensils to clothing, a new kitchen, boat and outboard motor and an air tour to South America.

She said her husband will make the decisions on acceptance of these.

"He's really the boss," she said.

Spring Makes Its Exit With Plenty of Bright Sunshine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is officially the first day of summer.

Spring made its exit Sunday 10 minutes before midnight, bowing out with plenty of sunshine and temperatures in the upper 70s and lower 80s throughout most of the state.

Roads to resort areas were crowded as families turned out for picnics, boating, fishing and other outdoor sports.

Surprisingly, only five persons were reported killed in accidents in Pennsylvania over the weekend—the second lowest death toll for a weekend this year. Over the weekend of April 45 four persons died accidentally.

Four of the deaths occurred in auto crashes. The fifth was a drowning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Point of Richmond, Va., were killed Saturday when their car overturned on the Turnpike near Jeannette. William J. Lynch, 19, of Pittsburgh was killed Sunday in a two-car crash in Verona. Harry J. Long, 29, of Sunbury, was killed Saturday near Selingsgrove when his auto crashed into a telephone pole.

One-year-old Deborah Grippio of Bethel Park drowned Saturday after falling off a pier into the Allegheny River at Althorn. She had wandered from a camp area.

Fourth Driver Is Winner of Extra Lap Racing Event

Although he was fourth man across the finish line when the checkered flag was waved, Bob Schnars of Busti won State-line Speedway's 25-lap feature event for late models Saturday night.

After a recheck of scoresheets, it was discovered the race had actually been run over a 26-lap span.

Schnars, whose transmission gave up the ghost as the one-lap-to-go flag was dropped, was ruled the winner since he led at the 25-circuit mark.

All drivers were satisfied with the decision. Hyle Russell of Kane, the apparent winner, said: "It's only right that he gets it."

About 2,600 fans watched the seven-event program which included a complete rollover by Jamestown Rog Nelson. He was uninjured.

A simplified package of quality automobile insurance that costs less

The new Champion policy gives the careful driver a break!

You asked for it and here it is...continuous protection,
low cost with premium payable every six months, fast-fair claims service. Available only from agents of Pennsylvania's strongest casualty company. Read the features below and see how the careful driver saves.

Don't you agree it's time somebody did something to bring down the cost of quality automobile insurance? Not just a few minor alterations, but a major overhaul with basic money-saving improvements?

The company that for 30 years has offered rewards to safe drivers — has done just that. We conferred with agents, and made a comprehensive study of the problems that cause high rates. We examined the risks, the accidents, the losses, premiums, jury awards, cost of repairs and — above all — the kinds of drivers who cause accidents.

After the study we knew what we could do — and we went ahead and did it. We simplified the coverage... found ways to cut handling costs... streamlined office and accounting procedure... simplified issuing of policies... simplified payment of premiums... lowered rates across the board.

And the result of all this is—Champion, the new automobile insurance package.

You can read more about Champion in the columns at the right, but please remember the basic idea or insurance philosophy: A preferred policy for the careful driver should cost less!

Champion gives the careful driver a break!

KINZUA DAM AND BOATING
The following editorial appeared in the Salamanca Republican-Press under the heading "Kin-zua Dam, Stimulant to Boating:"
In view of the U. S. Supreme Court decision removing the last legal obstacle to construction of the Kinzua Dam, creating a big lake to be known as the Allegheny Reservoir, special local interest attaches to the "boat fever" which has hit some forty million Americans and is getting attention from public and private safety agencies.
The recreational facilities to become available in connection with the Kinzua Dam project were brought to the attention of Salamancans two years ago by Col. Sprague, then at the head of the Army Engineers, in an address at the 1957 annual dinner of the Board of Trade. Other information, including the Chapin report of a survey made on order of the New York State Council of Parks a dozen years ago, points to plans for joint Federal-State development of the Allegheny river valley as a vast recreational area.

Some of the implications of such a development may be seen in a National Safety Council statement just made public in connection with the approaching Fourth of July three-day holiday. The biggest playground on such holidays, the Council notes, are lake areas, beaches and resorts. The trend toward lake areas has been increased by "the nation's newest summertime epidemic, boat fever." The coming Fourth of July weekend "will see these boating enthusiasts out in force wherever there is water." This leads the National Safety Council to issue a special bulletin aimed particularly at boat owners—urging them to see that they are equipped properly for water excursions, also urging motorists hauling boats to be sure that trailers and hitches are safe.
No new development of recreational facilities along the Allegheny is to be looked for this summer, of course. But it is well that local people begin to get a vision of what is to be expected under the Kinzua Dam-Allegheny Reservoir plans. Also the number of boats already being hauled along highways in this county, on their way to presently rather limited boating areas, makes the Council's advice timely.

VACATION TRAGEDY
The tragedy that robbed an Allegheny county family of their year-and-a-half old baby minutes before they were to start for home after a week-long vacation reminds of the necessity for extreme caution on the part of all adults when on such visits. Eluding the watchful eyes of the parents and other relatives for only a moment little Debbie Grippo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grippo, of Bethel Park, toddled down a few steps upon a small dock on the water's edge, to topple off into about six feet of water. It was a sorrowful termination to what had been a happy family outing.

QUEEN CONTEST
The 1959 Fourth of July Celebration sponsored yearly by the Jaycees, was launched in a surprisingly successful manner Friday evening when the preliminary judging was held in the Queen Contest to be decided next week. The large crowd that turned out and keen interest on the part of the 33 entries proved an encouraging experience for those in charge. Our congratulations are extended the winners, and to those who failed to "place" among the select five, we might add the judges were unanimous in declaring it a most difficult assignment to choose five from so many Warren county beauties.

WORLD TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The mumble-mumble game is coming to a climax.
Since May 5 the nation, which would be heavily affected by a steel strike, has watched the steel union and the steel industry going through the motions of bargaining on a new contract.
All the two sides have really done is mumble about what they want—and don't want—without ever getting very specific.
But the three-year contract between the union and the industry ends June 30. Unless there is agreement on a new contract by that time, the country faces a shutdown in steel production.
In these weeks of talks both sides have pumped out propaganda. What they seem to have been doing is jockeying for a favorable position in public opinion in case a strike and shutdown come. It can hardly be called collective bargaining.
The United Steelworkers Union demanded a substantial wage boost, plus pension improvements,

An appeal at Meadville for homemade blackberry wine was answered by more than 50 persons in and around Crawford county, according to The Titusville Herald. As reprinted in the Friday issue of the Times-Mirror the request came from Joe De John of 1138 Park Ave., Meadville, who served as a "contact man" for a Meadville man in a hospital there. The hospital patient has a form of cancer and has been suffering from diarrhea and dysentery for the past three weeks. Doctors tried all during that time to put an end to both ailments but to no avail. Someone then recommended using homemade blackberry wine, which has been an old-time remedy for diarrhea and dysentery. The patient was given some wine Thursday and for the first time in three weeks was able to hold down food. Mr. DeJohn said the response was amazing and he was very much impressed by people's willingness to lend a helping hand. The Titusville Herald received three calls yesterday from persons who had some blackberry wine to donate. The Titusville police department also received a bottle of wine for the Meadville patient. In this connection it is interesting to note that The Times-Mirror received a call from a resident of Clarendon late Friday evening offering wine made six or eight years ago. Mr. DeJohn said the blackberry wine must be homemade to be effective medicinally. "The difference between the homemade stuff and the kind you get at the liquor store is that the alcoholic content is very much lower, and no sugar has been added," he said. Almost all the people who called Mr. DeJohn live in the country, and the majority of them had their wine for 10 years or more. He said one woman called and said that when she moved into a house 40 years ago she found some blackberry wine there that had been made by her great-grandmother. She was not certain when it had been made, but the wine was still good. The family used it through the years. When needed, but she said she has a few cups of the wine left. The Meadville patient has a daughter who lives in Titusville.
We have before us a clipping from the Sunday, June 7, issue of the El Paso, Texas, Times, "El Paso's Home Newspaper," carrying a heading across the top of the page which says "Oklahoma Challenges Pennsylvania's Claim to First Producing Oil Well." Of course most everyone is aware of the fact that the claims for the Drake Well have been challenged many times, but never successfully. So with this thought in mind, we're going to print a few excerpts from the article, which appears under a Tulsa, Okla., dateline. For instance: "The world this summer will acclaim the 100th anniversary of the famed Drake well, at Titusville, Pa. . . . the first oil well in the U.S. But was it? A group of Oklahomaans claim that it was not. The Drake well, drilled by erstwhile railroad conductor Edwin L. Drake, was completed August 27, 1859, at a depth of 69.5 feet and was pumped to produce ten to twenty barrels per day. It has been hailed as the first commercial well in the U.S., the springboard of the gigantic U.S. petroleum industry. And Col. Drake, who died broke—has been cited as the father of the industry. Nonsense, says the Oklahoma Historical Day Committee. The first commercial well in the U.S. was the Ross well near Salina, Okla., drilled to a depth of about 700 feet which started flowing ten barrels per day in July, 1859. C. E. Chouteau, member of the Oklahoma Historical Day Committee, last week wrote the Drake Oil Well Centennial Committee at Titusville, disputing the Titusville claim. There is much indisputable documentary evidence to confirm these facts concerning the Ross well, Chouteau wrote. The Ross well continued to flow about a year until the gas pressure became exhausted, Chouteau said. Paul S. Hedrick, of the Tulsa World, long-time Tulsa oil writer, says Troopers of the U.S. Cavalry operating from Ft. Gibson and Ft. Smith, Ark., tell in reports of finding a small flowing seep near what is now Salina. The Oklahoma Historical Society in a recent issue of its magazine reported that late in 1858 and early 1859 trappers digging for

 EDSON IN WASHINGTON ***
Munitions Peddler Only One of Many Lobbyists
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Current excitement about a "munitions lobby" charged with having undue influence on Department of Defense contract letting gets at only one phase of lobbying.
Strictly speaking, the munitions lobby is not interested in influencing Congress on legislation. Munitions lobbyists are nothing more than supersalesmen looking for defense contracts—the fatter the better.
That some of these salesmen are retired admirals and generals who know their way around Pentagon procurement offices makes their efforts suspect. This is the angle which a House Armed Services subcommittee under Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) will start investigating July 1.
Just how many of these munitions salesmen there are around Washington, nobody knows. One clue is furnished by Aerospace Industries Assn., which has just published a new directory. It lists 66 manufacturing company offices in Washington.
Aircraft and missile contracts are of course the most lucrative the government has to give in the 14 billion dollars' worth of military supplies it buys next year.

AEROSPACE INDUSTRIES ASSN., itself, as the trade representative for all these companies, is a registered lobbyist. Its officials try to influence legislation.
For instance, President William M. Allen of Boeing Airplane Co., as spokesman for A.I.A., testified against extension of the Renegotiation Act.
A short time later, General Accounting, once reported that Boeing had overpriced two B-32 parts contracts with the Air Force by five million dollars. Boeing denies it. It is one of four aircraft makers whose profits are now being investigated.
It is in cases like this that real lobbying shows up—trying to influence legislation in which the lobbyist may have a special interest.
THE LIST OF LOBBYISTS registered with the clerk of the House and secretary of the Senate has just been published in Congressional Record. It shows over 700 registrations in the first quarter of 1959. There are usually several hundred late registrations. So the total number is close to 1,000.
In round numbers, American Farm Bureau reports $23,000 spent for lobbying, Farmers Union $22,000, National Grange $10,000. It is interesting to note, also, that one reason there has been no farm legislation this year is that the farm organizations can't agree on what they want.
AFL-CIO gave its legislative expenses as $34,000 with another $15,000 from its Industrial Union Division. Machinists Union reports $21,000.
TEMPORARY COMMITTEE ON TAXATION of Mutual Life Insurance Companies reports lobbying expense of $40,000. Life Insurance Assn. of America reports $13,000. Numerous individual companies filed reports for smaller sums.
Association of American Railroads reports its lobbying activities cost $25,000. Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen at $13,000 top the list of rail labor unions opposing A.A.R. on railway retirement act changes.
In the powerful water lobby, National Reclamation Assn. at $12,000 and Rivers and Harbors Congress at $13,000 were the top spenders.
Aircraft Industries Assn., now Aerospace Industries Assn., reports lobbying to the tune of $11,000.

salt water near Salina went too deep and found a small flow of oil. No attempt was made to do anything with the well and it oozed forth between one and two barrels of oil a day, the black fluid running into a creek. When the Civil War ended, the Indians killed the floy. Old newspaper files searched by Hedrick showed that in the spring of 1852, an agent of the Chickasaw Nation, reported an oil spring at the foot of the Wichita Mountains in Southwestern Oklahoma x x x Chouteau, in his letter to the Titusville Centennial Committee, advised the Pennsylvanians not to worry too much about the Oklahoma claim. He said—"These facts need not necessarily disturb your plans for an observance this summer, other than to commemorate the second commercial oil well in the United States."

How to Keep Well
By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen
(© 1958: By The Chicago Tribune)
To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.
TEEN-AGER'S COSMETIC PROBLEMS
The junior high school student is at an age when the skin and complexion assume new importance. The glands are beginning to work, and skin becomes oily, and perspiration more profuse. All this points to the need for more attention to the complexion.
Cleanliness is a great ally of these young people. Soap and water take care of many of their problems such as body odor due to excess perspiration and oily secretions and they help to control acne and other skin blemishes. Diet also enters the picture as rich and greasy foods encourage pimples and blackheads.
(Dr. Van Dellen will send a leaflet on care of the hair and scalp if self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)
Shampooing also is important. How often to wash the hair depends upon whether it is dry or greasy. As a rule, once every five days is ample. The time element can be extended to every two weeks if the scalp is dry. More frequent shampoos are needed if it is greasy.
Daily hair and scalp hygiene maintains the health and increases the beauty of the tresses. Combining and brushing morning and night will clean the hair, remove tangles, and exercise the scalp by pulling at it. The only time to go easy is when the hair has lost its viability. Here, frequent and vigorous brushing may increase hairfall or result in further damage to the malfunctioning hair. Substitute gentle massage.
The sweat glands are controlled by the nervous system. Generalized sweating can be treated effectively by drugs that interrupt or block nerve impulses. But these products affect other structures and are not recommended, especially in younger persons. Normal perspiration in the armpits can be taken care of by bathing more frequently, using an ordinary anti-perspirant, and cutting or shaving the hair.
TOMORROW. Faulty posture and backache.
STONY HEART
J. L. writes: Is there such a thing as hardening of the heart?
Reply
Some persons are hard-hearted but I assume you refer to rare conditions in which the heart muscle or the outer lining is replaced by calcium.
REMEDIES FOR VIRUS
R. M. writes: Are any medicines effective against viruses?
Reply
No. Various medications are used to relieve symptoms, and antibiotics may be given to counteract secondary invaders.
ALL KINDS OF TONSILS
D. T. writes: What are lingual tonsils? I thought we had only one kind.
Reply
The back of the throat is guarded by a ring of lymphatic tissue. The collection of tissue at the bottom of the circle, or base of the tongue, is known as lingual tonsils. The palatine tonsils are on the sides; these are the structures usually removed when tonsilectomy is done. The pharyngeal (third) tonsil is high in the back of the throat.
SLEEP IS SLEEP
T. H. writes: Can teen-agers do justice to their work if they stay up studying and watching TV until 2 a.m.? I always was under the impression that the best sleep was before midnight.
Reply
There is no substitute for sleep—before or after midnight. It makes no difference when a person sleeps provided he gets enough to recharge his batteries. If this youngster must be in school at 8 a.m., he is not getting enough sleep. In addition, his grades will suffer if he watches TV in the evening instead of studying. This is the time of life when good or bad habits develop.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP)—Insurance of bank deposits and savings and loan shares is now a 25-year-old commonplace of financial life.
And—so far—neither agency that takes over for deceased institutions has suffered much loss. Nor have depositors or shareholders—so far—had to wait for their money longer than local laws dictated.
The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. celebrated its silver anniversary last year. The Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corp. observes its birthday June 27.
Each agency insures accounts up to $10,000 each.
Both agencies can pay off accounts in default institutions in cash or move the accounts to other insured institutions.
The FDIC has more than 13,000 banks insured and they have built its resources up to nearly two billion dollars. So far it has had 436 cases to deal with and its losses have come to about 29 million dollars or about 1 1/2 per cent of its cumulative gross income.
The FSILC insures 3,900 savings and loan associations. It has had 38 insurance cases with a total loss of 54 million dollars, or less than 2 per cent of its cumulative gross income of 324 million dollars.
The associations, like the banks, pay for the insurance—just as you pay for any insurance you may have.
Although set up by the federal government and supervised by federal agencies, the two corporations are owned by their members. The insurance payments after a failure come from funds the members have paid in—and not from the U.S. Treasury.
When a bank fails those who get paid off are depositors—whether they have checking accounts or savings accounts.
When a savings and loan group fails, those who get payments are shareholders not depositors. They actually own a part of the business, and it is their share of ownership that is insured.
How long do you have to wait for your money if a bank or a savings and loan association fails and the FDIC or the FSILC steps in?
The American Bankers' Assn. says bank depositors will get theirs almost immediately. FDIC says in most cases the delay has been just a few days.
The longest delay—so far—has been three months in the case of three Chicago banks folding in 1953. FDIC explains that this was because Illinois law at that time (since changed) allowed the state superintendent of banking to close banks for investigation, and FDIC's hands were tied.
The U.S. Savings and Loan League says no shareholder has been delayed in getting insurance payments.
Both the Home Loan Bank Board which rides herd on FSILC, and the National League of Insured Savings Assns. say that so far—shareholders have never had to wait longer than over a weekend.
The U.S. Savings and Loan League points with pride to speed in the most publicized default, that of the Commonwealth Building & Loan Assn. of Norfolk, Va., in 1956.
Its trouble arose when it found that a big-hearted spinster employee (Minnie Mangum) had embezzled nearly three million dollars over the years to lavish on friends.
On a Friday when the stricken association was still meeting withdrawal requests, the FSILC moved in, transferred all accounts to another association, so that shareholders were able to get their money on Monday morning if they wished. The League says most didn't withdraw funds.

MRS. JOHAN HAROLD STOHL

The wedding ceremony of Miss Donna Lee Anderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chauncey Anderson of Stromsburg, Neb., and Johan Harold Stohl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Stohl, of Warren, took place at 4:30 p. m. June 13 in the Stromsburg Baptist church.

Bouquets of white gladioli and peonies, with two seven-branch candelabra, framed the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Earl Eyleen. The organist was Miss Betty Wilson of Lincoln, Neb. Mrs. Dale Foshier of Howard, Kans., sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" by Gounod and "Wedding Hymn" by Handel.

Matron of honor and sister of the bride was Mrs. Willard Inskeep of Honolulu, Hawaii; bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Johnson, of Stromsburg, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. John Shipley of Ravenna, O. The attendants wore street-length frocks of pink polished cotton, accented with pink daisies in headpieces and bouquets.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white tulle gown, fashioned with fitted wrist-length sleeves, and a sabbina neckline of lace traced with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Lace panels and a chapel train featured the bouffant floor-length skirt. Her fingertip veil fell gracefully from a circlet of flowers and pearls; her cascade bouquet of white roses was encircled with stephanotis.

Attending Mr. Stohl were the best man, the Rev. J. Springer of Kansas City, Kans., a classmate recently ordained; groomsmen, Gordon Anderson, brother of the bride, and Richard Johnson of Stromsburg; Con Anderson, another brother of the bride, served as usher with the other attendants.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Anderson chose a dusty rose gown of lace over tulle, with white accessories. Mrs. Stohl wore a pale blue silk shantung sheath and matching accessories. Each had a corsage of white gladioli.

SPEND NIGHT IN OPEN

Four teen-age residents of the Bradford Children's Home were taken into custody by a State Trooper near Kane Thursday, after the youngsters had spent at least two chilly nights in woods between there and Bradford. They were two girls, aged 14; and two boys, one 15 and the other 16 years of age. Trooper William Wooditch in a patrol car came upon the quartet hiking along Route 6 near Kaneshelm. When they spotted the official auto, the youngsters ran off into a field, but were stopped by the officer who gave chase on foot.

WARREN AREA MAN HURT

Corry Journal: A 20-year-old Warren resident Robert Klamp, sustained a fractured nose, laceration of the bridge of his nose and lacerations of the right elbow shortly before 7 o'clock Friday evening when the car in which he was a passenger was involved in an accident. He was treated at the Corry Memorial Hospital and later released. According to information released by Corry State Police, Willis Stroup Jr., 17, of R. D. 1, Spring Creek, was driving south on Blue Eye road about seven miles east of Corry, when he lost control of the vehicle as he drove over a crest of a hill approaching a curve to the left. Police said Stroup's auto left the right side of the road, smashed into a tree, careened back across the road and off the left side and head on into a second tree. State Police said they are continuing their investigation into the mishap.

UNUSUAL FATALITY
Kane Republican: A small boy's fascination for calling echoes in a large oil tank led to his suffocation death Friday afternoon when he tumbled into the fume-filled container while another boy watched. Ten-year-old Michael Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, of DeYoung, Pa., about eight miles south of Kane, was pronounced dead after rescuers worked for over an hour to get his body out of the oil-gathering tank. Michael and his buddy, Kevin Rogers, had been on a fishing trip with the elder Oliver but had lagged behind when the father returned home early Friday afternoon. The boys, with little Michael in front, climbed a ladder to the top of the 10-foot high, 90-barrel capacity tank, and opened a clean-out cap on the top. Michael had been hoisting into the almost empty tank, having fun listening to the echoes, when suddenly he pitched forward through the clean-out opening and fell down into the tank.

Allegheny County Child is Drowning Victim at Althom

JANICE AND DEBBIE

Accidental drowning of their year-and-a-half old baby daughter while they were completing the packing of their car for the return trip, brought a tragic ending to a week's vacation in a cottage at Althom, Deerfield township, for a young family from Bethel Park, Allegheny county, late Sunday afternoon. "In another ten minutes," the grief-stricken father told the coroner, "we would have been on our way home."

Victim of the drowning was Debbie Grippio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grippio, 1276 Scenic Court, Bethel Park. According to information given State Troopers and Coroner Ed Lawrey, the family came to Althom June 12, for a week's vacation in the cottage owned by a relative. They spent much of Saturday afternoon packing up for the return home. About 5:30 o'clock the absence of little Debbie, who was supposed to be in the house, was noticed. Upon inquiry, sister Janice, four years old, replied "Debbie fell into the water."

She directed the parents to a small wharf at the river's edge, reached by descending a half dozen steps. Without removing his clothing the father dived into the stream, about six feet deep. His search was unsuccessful and other rescuers joined him. In the matter of minutes the body was recovered and artificial respiration applied with no avail.

In the excitement the name of the party locating the body was not recalled. A Tidoute doctor was called and pronounced the child dead.

Debbie was born in Pittsburgh December 18, 1957. Besides the parents, she is survived by her sister Janice.

The body was taken to Tidoute before being removed to Dormont where funeral arrangements are being completed.

pen if there were a rush of failures—although nothing seems less likely at the moment?

In some states banking supervisors have the power to impose a waiting period before savings accounts (as apart from checking accounts) can be withdrawn. If they did so, many depositors might have to wait.

Shareholders can be required to give 30 days notice of intention to withdraw from savings and loan associations. They haven't had to wait—so far—but they might have to some time.

And it could be possible for a faltering association to number all withdrawal requests and honor them on a wait-your-turn basis, paying off no more than $1,000 to any shareholder each time around. This could push final payment far into the future.

Both the bank and association insurance agencies insist that long before any of their members got in that bad a fix they would have moved in to protect depositors or shareholders.

DRAKE PARK PROJECT

Titusville area plumber, recognizing the need for toilet facilities at Drake Park Memorial Park, have taken the first major step toward doing something about it. Paul Beason of Titusville, business agent for the plumbers of Titusville and Oil City, said the plumbers have agreed to donate their services in installing plumbing fixtures at the park. The free labor will be done by members of Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 37, AFL-CIO, of Titusville and Oil City.

SEAWAY CLAMP

The design of the St. Lawrence Seaway commemorative stamp will feature the emblems of two nations, the Maple Leaf for Canada, and the Eagle for the United States, enclosed in interlocking links superimposed over a background of the Great Lakes. The stamp will be printed in red and blue on white paper thereby utilizing the national colors of red, white and blue for both countries. This is the first occasion that Canada and the United States have issued a stamp jointly. Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the U. S. stamp should send self-addressed envelopes prior to June 26th to the postmaster, Messena, N. Y. together with remittance to cover cost of stamps to be affixed.

STRAWBERRY HARVEST

Erie County strawberry growers are in the process of harvesting a $50,000 crop. The 75 acres of berries are said to be of a better quality than last year, but the season will be short despite the fact the ripening process began a week early. The late frost and continued wet weather in the early months have cut production. Statistics show 1,600 acres of strawberries in Pennsylvania with the largest producing area near Berwick in Wyoming County.

Ernie Ford. Ole Ernie was relaxing between rehearsals for his Thursday night NBC-TV show and talking serious-like about his two boys, Buck, 9, and Brian, 7.

"They're all boy, and I want to keep them that way," he commented. "That's why we're going to pull out of this town in a couple of years."

What's that? Leave Hollywood while he's riding the crest of popularity?

"Yes, we've bought us 15 acres up north, back of the Stanford campus," he said. "Come late 1960 or early 1961, we'll start building a house on the property. Then we'll move the whole family up there."

Ernie argued that with jet travel, he can reach Hollywood from San Francisco in less than an hour. The reason for the move, he said, was to give his two sons more of the kind of upbringing he had as a youngster.

"Why, back at my home, I could run out the back door and keep going as far as I could run, and it would still be open fields," he said. "It's hard to find that kind of country today, but at least I can get my kids out of the city and keep an eye on them. That's the important thing—to be with your kids. The boys and I do a lot of fishing together, and we go up to our ranch in northern California as much as we can. This summer my wife and the boys and I are going to get in the car and start driving. We'll tour all over the West, just fishing and playing golf and seeing the sights."

Flood Committee News Letter

AN OPEN LETTER TO :
Mr. John A. Hall, Managing Editor
Jamestown Post-Journal
Jamestown, New York.

Dear Mr. Hall:
It is surprising to learn that your paper, The Jamestown Post-Journal, will use un-researched material as a basis for its editorials. Yet your recent tirade, "It's Too Bad The White Man Hasn't Fought The Kinzua Dam as Determinedly as the Indians", indicates that you will do this, and from the tone of it, implies that in some instances you use the pure and unadulterated propaganda without questioning the veracity of the statements therein. It so happens that this time your source of information was a "source of mis-information".

Let us look at your questionable piece of writing paragraph by paragraph.
Paragraph one: Here, we have to agree with you. The Palefaces of Western New York have been asleep. Otherwise, they would be much better informed on the status of the Kinzua issue and such irresponsible editorials as this would never reach the printed page.

Paragraph two: At this point we wonder who it is, "who haven't yet had their eyes open?" Could it be the despised "Pennsylvanians", or is it the persons who gulp down large doses of propaganda and become headily bolstered about the "true truth" they have just discovered?

Paragraph three: (Quote "— should assure that an impartial study of the two projects will now be made, something avoided up to the present.")

So! On this point we can only wonder what Tippetts, a reputable engineering firm, would reply to this. Not too long ago, this firm of consulting engineers charged the United States Government $75,000 to investigate the Conewango Valley project and give them an "impartial" report. In that report, these eminent engineers stated that the Conewango Plan would be far more expensive than the Kinzua Dam and that it was impractical in other ways.

Paragraph five: Here, you more or less quote Dr. Morgan, although it is indirectly. We will not discredit Dr. Morgan—he is doing a fine job of this himself—but we will answer the implication that he is the discoverer of the Conewango water-route to Lake Erie. We can do this by reminding him that this plan, the Conewango Valley Diversion, was thoroughly investigated even before the final planning of the Kinzua Dam was completed. It was done by specialists of the Corps of Engineers in 1928.

Paragraph six: You continue with Dr. Morgan's statement. "In the 30 years since, the Army has never reconsidered. Here, let us remind Mr. Morgan that he, himself, has taken the Conewango Plan to the Corps of Engineers six different times. That they did consider it is a proven fact. How else could they have pointed out to him the points of poor engineering that brought about the various and frequent changes he has made in the plan since he first proposed this method of handling the flood waters of the Allegheny River?

Paragraph seven: (Quote) "It is difficult to understand the opposition of Warren—"

You will understand this if you will read the open letter we recently directed to the Jamestown Chamber of Commerce.
Paragraph eight: In this paragraph we feel there is much propaganda and some questionable statements. Yet we would be foolish to claim that any of these statements were wrong entirely. It is a matter of opinion. However, we will say that "mud-flats is mud-flats" and we wonder if the broad, almost-level valley of the Conewango won't spread them much further than the steep hillsides of the Allegheny Valley would permit.

Paragraph nine: This is the one point we do seem to fully agree upon—the Conewango Valley project would flood four communities. And whether the citizens of these communities are moved "up the hill" or across the continent, they are still being driven from their homes. This is the strong point the Seneca makes against the Kinzua Dam. But if these people are moved to preserve the homes of the Senecas, then we are giving the Indian the status of being a "preferred citizen". Will the Constitution of the United States permit this? We don't think so.

Paragraph ten: Commenting on the point you make in this paragraph it is evident you don't read the Warren papers. Somewhere around a year ago there was quite a fuss about the type of town Warren would be with the influx of itinerant workers. Even today there is considerable resistance to the Kinzua Dam because of the "labor boom" that would result.

Paragraph eleven: (Quote) "It's about time we learned to fight."

This is a rash statement—the less comment the better. This, Mr. Hall, pretty well covers our response to this particular editorial. In the future, we suggest, especially in matters pertaining to the Kinzua Dam, that you research the material personally.

Cordially yours,

Man at 85 Wants To Enter College For His Diploma

MILLERSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Roger G. Harley dropped out of school before he could graduate with his class at Millersville State Teachers College. Now, 62 years later, he wants to come back and finish his work for a degree.

Dr. William Duncan, dean of admissions at the college, told today of receiving a letter from Harley, of Morgantown, W. Va. Harley wrote that he wanted to come back "notwithstanding . . . my being in my 85th year."

Duncan said school records confirm Harley started his studies in 1936 but, for some reason, dropped out.

The letter said Harley now had a total of 110 credits earned at Millersville, Cornell University, Hood College in Maryland and Shepherd College in West Virginia.

If these credits can be verified, Duncan said, Harley will be admitted to a summer session beginning July 20 and should graduate next January.

Harley's letter said that since leaving Millersville he has earned teaching certificates in Virginia and West Virginia, and has taught school for 30 years.

But not having a degree always has bothered Harley. He's so eager to earn one, the letter said, that, if accepted, he would happily live in a dormitory and wouldn't "mind the boys carrying on a bit."

You get the BIG comfort dividends in your 59 FORD...

Some cars' door openings aren't shaped to fit people! So you have to squirm and wriggle . . . make your body conform to the car when getting in and out.

NO SQUIRM

To gain a low roof line, some cars end up with higher floor "humps" and thinly padded rear seats . . . a combination that's mighty rough on the middleman.

NO SQUEEZE

The squeezed-down, skinny roofs of some cars aren't comfortable even for bare-headed riders. And they don't keep out excessive sunlight and glare.

NO SQUASH

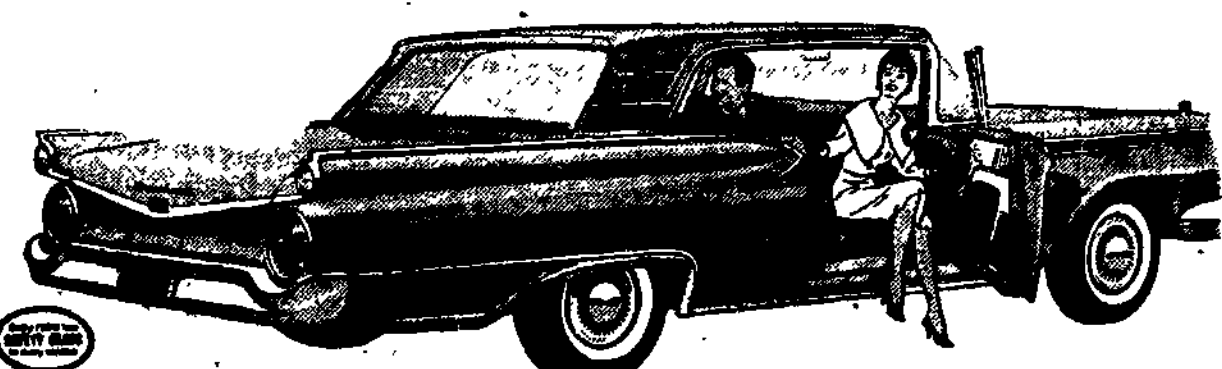

Doors in 59 Fords are wider — up to six inches wider — and door openings are contoured to fit you! You get in and out of a Ford with greater ease and comfort. The girls really like Ford's doors . . . for more graceful entries and exits.

Fords have useable seating space for six big people. The driveshaft tunnel is lower and rear seats are deeply cushioned all the way across. This means more comfort for all passengers . . . especially for the man in the middle.

See how much more head room Ford has. Even big six-footers sit up straight without touching the roof. And Ford's big roof protects all passengers, in both front and rear seats, against the discomforts of excessive glare and heat from the sun.

TRADITION—It's the moment of parting for these women and children in Spakenburg, The Netherlands, as those small sailboats carry their men to the fishing season in the Zuider Zee. The families, including tiny tots in carriages, turn out for a mass farewell each year as the fleet moves out to start the voyage.

HOLD TIGHT!—Looks like those kids are defying gravity, but they're trying to stand upright in the magnetic house at Pleasure Island, a new amusement center opening at the Boston suburb of Wakefield, Mass. The house is really a giant optical illusion, with a steeply-pitched floor given a level appearance by the artfully-angled walls.

BIRD BATH—Percy, a pelican at a zoo in Chessington, Surrey, England, is getting this shower from an attendant because there actually is no bird bath handy. Even though he's stamping on his bather's foot in protest, that big bird simply has to come clean—and he's doing it.

DAISY MAE — She's really Leslie Parrish, a Pennsylvania lassie, showing that she's well qualified to play the hillbilly character Daisy Mae. She won the part over some 50 applicants for the role in Hollywood.

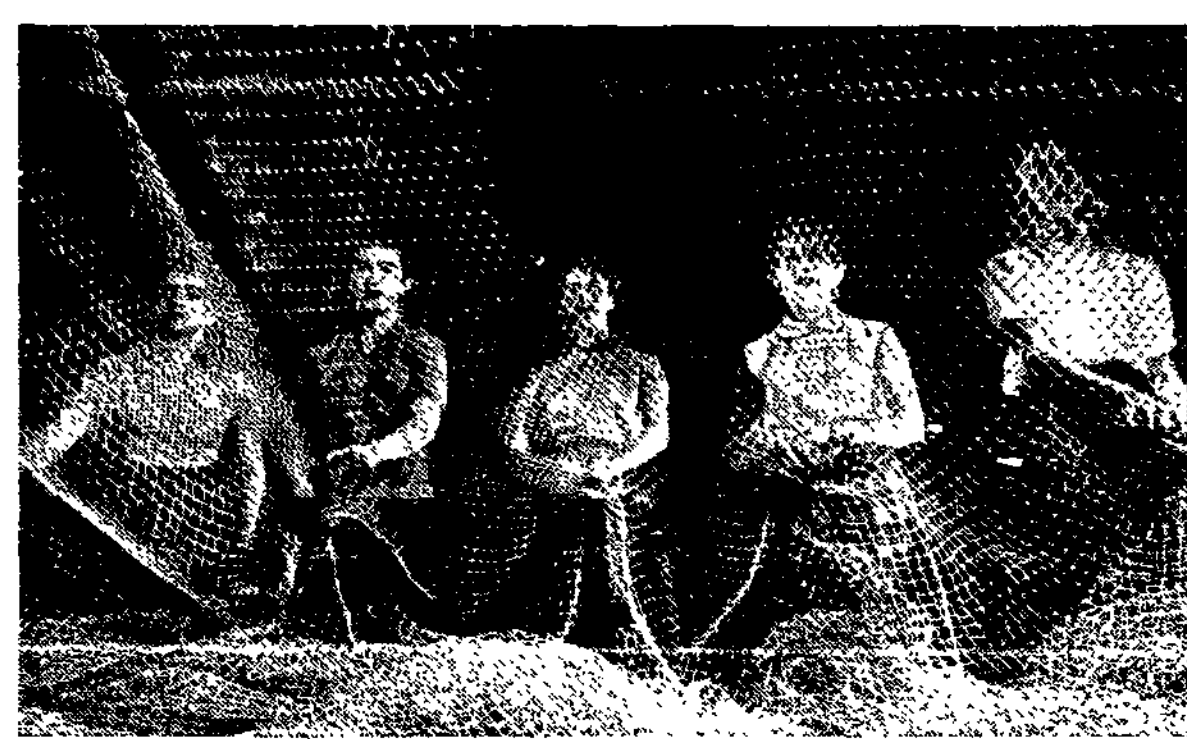

HER TORCH FOR ART—Gwen Lux, a sculptress in New York, works with tools usually associated with men and muscle. Her current specialty of sculpting in stainless steel calls for a welder's helmet, acetylene torch, hammer, pliers, saw and heavy gloves. Let the sparks fall where they may.

WINGING AWAY—Singing star Bill Hayes is shown with his wife and five youngsters at the airport in Kansas City, Mo. Bill had finished an engagement there and was leaving for Oregon to appear at that state's Centennial.

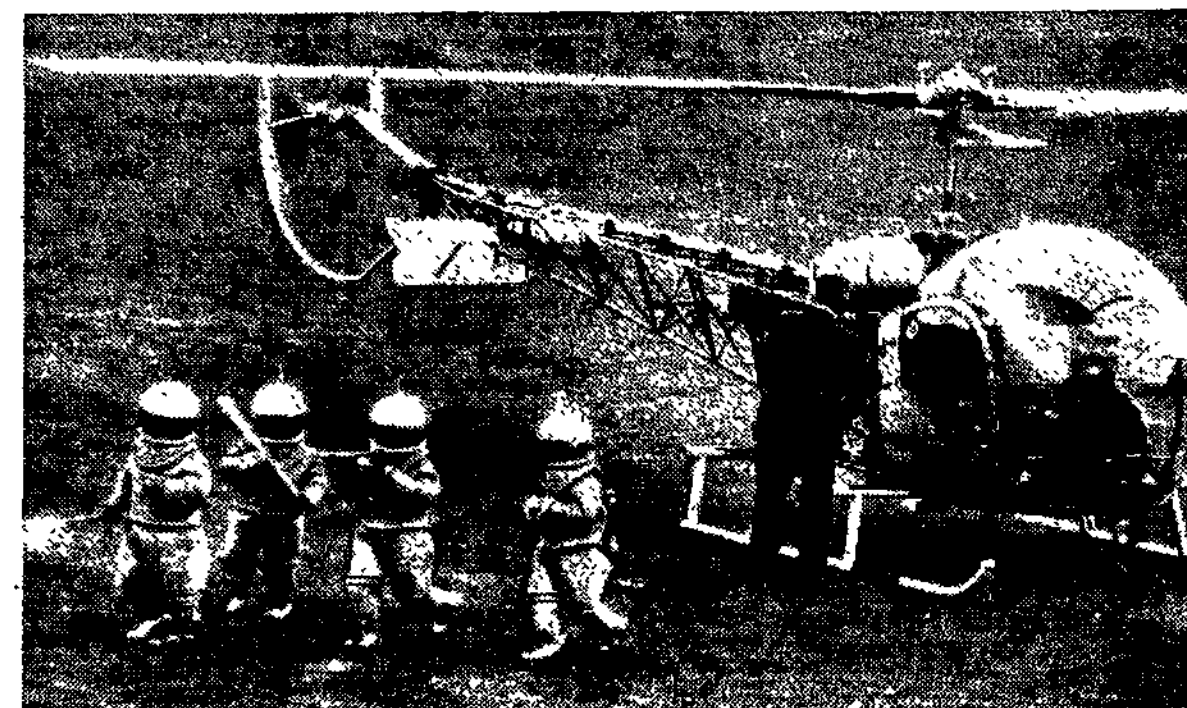

SLEEPING CAR—The latest in camping equipment was shown at a fair in Rome, Italy, and two gals are demonstrating it. The sleeping tent can be mounted easily on any car top, where it travels all folded up like other luggage. It has a metal ladder to climb up and down.

NET RESULT—Women textile workers are inspecting a huge nylon herring net produced by a Canadian mill in Valleyfield, Que. Turning out products for fishing or high fashion, the textile industry is booming in Canada, employing one in every 17 manufacturing workers.

AROUND THE WORLD

LOOKING FOR A LEADER—Some little men from outer space staged a helicopter raid on Chicago's Comiskey Park before a baseball game there. The midget spacemen dropped in to honor their "compatriots," Luis Aparicio and Nelson Fox.

IT SEEMS OUT OF PLACE—Although it appears to be in The Netherlands, this windmill is really in the English village of Outwood, in Surrey. Two youngsters are waiting for a breeze to turn the sail of the mill, which is the oldest working mill in England. It was built in 1665.

ALONG THE RHINE—As it was accompanied by boats of all shapes and sizes, the Rhine River paddlewheel passenger steamer Cecillie is shown cruising from Muehlheim to Cologne in a religious procession. An altar had been installed under the canopy on her bow and, upon arriving in Cologne, the procession moved from the river banks to the famous cathedral.

STRINGS ATTACHED — Green bugle-bead fringe gives an icicle frosting to this dress, which seems to have shimmied out of the Roaring '20s. It's done in green and pink satin print, and a green sash also forms a trailing back panel.

LOOKING UP—During a display of jet flying at Shoreham-By-Sea, Sussex, England, The Netherlands' Prince Bernhard (second from right) and some other gentlemen risked stiff necks. At right is Britain's Lord Tedder, with Air Chief Marshal Sir John W. Baker on the other side of the Prince, who was visiting England.

Fighting Cubans To See Madison Square Ring Again

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cubans have landed and the situation is well in hand.

A three-man invasion team from Havana established a beach head Friday night at Madison Square Garden. All three will be back August 7.

The familiar cry of "arriba" that used to greet Kid Gavilan's flurries echoed in the Garden for welterweight Florentino Fernandez and lightweight Carlos Hernandez and Douglas Vaillant. Although Hernandez was born in Caracas, Venezuela, Cuba claims him as its own because he has had all his pro fights in Havana.

Fernandez, the "big boy" of the trio, stopped Stefan Redl, Hungarian-born resident of Passaic, N.J., in 1:07 of the seventh round. Fernandez is a well-packed 144½-pounder with a solid left hook. Redl, stopped for the first time in his 28-bout career, weighed 147 pounds.

It was a strange ending. Fernandez was winning going away when he planted a left hook on Redl's jaw. Down went Stefan in his own corner. He came up at nine just beating the 10-count. Referee Harry Ebbets took a look and asked, "Are you all right?" Redl said, "Yes" and then proceeded to walk out with his hands down. Ebbets quickly jumped between the men to stop it.

In his dressing room Redl said he thought the fight was over but claimed he could have continued. All three officials had Fernandez, a 23-year-old unbeaten boxer-puncher, way out front. It was his 20th straight victory and his 18th straight knockout. Judge Joe Agnello had it 6-0, Judge Mike Davidovich 4-2 and Referee Ebbets 5-1. The AP card agreed with Ebbets.

About 5,000 saw Hernandez, 134½, win his ninth straight by outpointing Luke Easter of Pittsburgh, 136, in eight rounds.

The other Cuban making his U.S. debut was Vaillant, 134½, a lopsided winner over Jimmy Grow of Lewiston, Idaho, 136, in a 10-rounder. Two officials scored it 10-0 and the other had it 8-1-1. Grow was cut under the left eye and on the bridge of the nose. Vaillant, 21, is unbeaten in 18 pro fights.

Erie's 'Welter Title At Stake Tuesday Night

Bob Walters' fight with Johnny Bizzaro Tuesday night has caused a delay in Bizzaro's honeymoon plans.

And for the late honeymoon, Walters must pay with a second round knockout from Johnny's leather. At least that's the way Bizzaro figures it.

The two Erie lightweights have wrapped up workouts for their featured "title" match in Cawley Memorial auditorium tomorrow evening.

Bizzaro, married last Saturday, must take his honeymoon after the fight. He says Walters should hit the canvas by the second round. Walters says his experience will take Johnny sometime around the fourth round.

Odds makers figure Bizzaro the 7-5 winner because of his youthful punching power. Walters has experience in long fights (Bizzaro's accustomed to 4-rounders) is enough cause to take a tired Johnny sometime after the fourth "in the six round go."

Matchmaker Don Elbaum says he has come up with a "great card." Included in the professional ring show are Tony Christy, Pittsburgh and Dick White, Youngstown, welterweights; Pancho Padilla, Buffalo and Detroit's Alvin Green; Roscoe Shamblin against Bob Butler; and Frank Smith of Warren, Ohio and DeConti Cooper.

CASH ON THE LINE—Andy Kosco, left, became the fifth player in Detroit history to get more than $50,000 for signing when the 17-year-old outfielder, fresh from a high school near Youngstown, O., was paid $60,000. He was sought by 15 major league clubs. Cleveland's newest bonus baby, Johnny McLane, 21-year-old flycatcher out of the University of Southern California, shows batting form which netted him $50,000. He was sent to Mobile.

Black Knights Snap Undefeated, Fearful Jamestown Moose 12-2

Jamestown Moose had their fears realized Sunday as Betts Machine Shop emblazoned-nine, Black Knights, snapped the Lodge-men's 12-win streak in the first game of a double header at Jamestown under the striking hill job of Ken Sorenson 12-2. Second contest in independent play, was called end of fifth because of darkness, was tied 2-2.

In pre-game talks, the Moose said Betts would definitely be their biggest threat of the season so far they singled out Sorenson's pitching as the probable high hurdle in the Moose path.

In the first game, 'Black Knights' barrage of hits and the 2-hut pitching of Sorenson sent Jamestown tumbling. Locals scored three in the first, Wink Rickerson's double accounting for two.

Betts marked four more in second on a walk and four consecutive singles. Four more Knights waltzed home in fourth, three to the music of Tom LeTrent's two-on homer.

Last run came at the hands of Sam Koebley's three-bagger and a sharp double from the bat of Bill Massa.

Knight manager Ange Bevin, said the Moose "never really threatened due to ace Sorenson's fabulous mound performance." Thirteen lodgemen fell via the strike-out route, keeping any mounted attack in check.

The manager also had high praise for the Jamestown Moose for the "wonderful treatment" Knights received while in Jamestown.

Young John Berdine displayed the future potential of Warren's mound threats in the second game holding a revived Moose to two hits and two unearned runs.

John had the situation under control throughout the five-inning game while his mates gathered two runs in fourth on two back-to-back walks and two successive singles by Rickerson and Bartholomew.

Fired-up Moose retaliated on a walk, a near double play that sent the ball skidding to right field, scoring both Lodgemen runners. Last two Jamestown batters at the plate went down swinging to hold the contest to a deadlock.

Another big double header for the Knights will be on their home diamond on West Side Saturday. Guests will be Olean Jckys. First game is scheduled for 4 p. m., the second to follow immediately.

Early-Inning Scoring Gives 7-3 Dunkirk Advantage Over Rockets

With most of the scoring damage done, Rocket pitcher Kelly McCool and twirler Master of Dunkirk, settled down to pitch a tight seven-innings from the third on as the Rockets lost to Dunkirk 7-3 here Saturday afternoon.

At the end of second-inning, Dunkirk paced the race 6-3, adding their last tally in fifth. Rockets were blanked from the third.

Over the final seven innings, McCool allowed one-hit one-run, allowing six walks and fanning as many Kooch batters.

Visiting Dunkirk, nemesis, scored opening four runs on singles by Woloszyn, Coogan, Till, Nicosia, Indelicato and Mazur. McCool replaced Jack Lobdell and struck out Criscione with bases loaded.

Rockets opened their action in first with successive singles by Fehlman, Creola, Cummings, Castagnino, which netted two runs.

Kooch added two more in second. With two outs, McCool fanned Coogan, who was safe on catcher Mancuso's error. Till and Nicosia followed with singles, good for the two runs.

Local nine chalked up final run in their half of second on McCool's single, after Thompson had reached second on an error.

A quiet two innings followed as the moundmen concentrated on their work. McCool allowed one hit in preceding seven innings, a bloop single which fell in short left field. Master allowed four hits to the Rockets, but kept them well scattered. Climaxing run in fifth for Dunkirk came on a base-on-balls stolen base by Indelicato with one away. A passed ball allowed the Dunkirk runner to advance to third, scoring on Master's fly to deep left.

Top batters for Warren were 2-for-4 Castagnino, Thompson, 1-for-3; and McCool, 2-for-4.

Tigers Would Like to Have An Old First Baseman Back

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—James Joseph Dykes shakes his head in astonishment discussing the Tigers he inherited after they had won just two games while losing 15.

Under Jimmie Dykes' stewardship, Detroit had batted 25 games while losing 11 to be the fastest-moving club in the major leagues coming into the big series at Yankee Stadium. The Bengals were only a hop, step and jump out of first place and were beginning to believe they could take it all.

Dykes, the Old Athletic, 62 and in his 43rd year in organized baseball, made only three changes and a suggestion. He put Al Kaline in the showcase that is center field and switched Harvey Kuenn to right. He installed Charley Maxwell in left field and assured the Paw Paw Pokes that the job was his against both kinds of pitching. He advised Eddie Yost to quit waiting for bases on balls and to more frequently attempt to pull the ball to left field in which direction the third baseman has power.

THE MANAGER DYKES straightened out the pitching staff until it became the best.

Dykes hasn't had it so good since as a third baseman he helped put Connie Mack and the Philadelphia A's in the World Series of 1929-30-31. In 16 years as a big league manager, Dykes, who started this season as coach of the Pirates, never had a good club to manage.

So, what could he ask for now, with pitching galore and Kuenn and Kaline battling for the American League batting championship?

"A first baseman," said Dykes, between puffs of his cigar in the visitors' dressing room at Yankee Stadium, "any old first baseman, any one of seven this club traded away."

The one the Tigers themselves wish they had is Vic Wertz, who was an outfielder in his younger years with Detroit. But they'd really settle for other ex-Tigers, Walt Dropo, Ray Boone, Earl Torgerson and Dave Philley, among them. In the Billy Martin deal, which did not work out well for Detroit, Kansas City insisted on two young first basemen, Kent Hadley, now with the A's, and Jim McManus, currently with Buffalo.

DYKES' MOST PRONOUNCED problem at the moment is first base, perhaps the easiest position to play. When it developed that Larry Osborne couldn't hit a curve with a tennis racket, Dykes inserted Gail Harris, hoping that the ex-Giant would catch fire as did Maxwell in left field. But Osborne was put back on the job when Harris' batting average hovered around an extremely cold .161.

The Tigers' bench suffers from the lack of hitting at first base. Going into the Yankee series, Dykes had only three pinch-hits since he assumed command on May 3.

In the dugout in addition to one of the first basemen are Gus Zernial, Neil Chisler, Johnny Groth and the spare catcher, either Red Wilson or Lou Berberet, and Ted Lepcio and Coot Veal, the extra shortstop. Outside of the catchers, none has hit a lick.

So, if you hear of an old first baseman who can hit a little bit, running around loose, please contact Jimmie Dykes.

Kinzua Hurdles Onoville 6-2 To Hold Loop Lead; Grovers Lose

Spliced by Onoville's tying 2-run top of eighth, Chautauqua County Baseball Association leader Kinzua sent four runners across the plate to win 6-2 Sunday, boosting its record to 6-1.

In other League games, Green Brothers lost to Kennedy 10-3; Busti beat Sugar Grove 19-6; and Jamestown fell under Cherry Creek 5-1.

An error opened the gate for Kinzua's decisive four-run surge. It was followed by a walk, another miscue, Don Mohney's three-run double, and a dropped ball.

Kinzua scored twice in second inning to open their scoring on an error and Cliff Jenkins' hit.

Onoville's initial run came in fourth on an error and Gene Buch's single. Second came in eighth and was gleaned on hits by Gustafson and Bob Burch.

Busti enhanced a 5-0 lead with a woolly 10-run rash in sixth inning in defeating Sugar Grove. Winners clubbed Don Spencer, Al Ludwick and Barrett for 13 hits, including Dave Wilcox's homer and Don Lepley's triple to lift their record to 5-2.

ern foreign ministers discuss with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko the possibility of a summit meeting. That matter did not come up at all, the secretary said.
Herter flew in Sunday from the fruitless first round of the foreign ministers meeting. He said then the Soviets had revealed that their real aim is to absorb free West Berlin and keep Germany divided until they can bring the whole country under Communist influence.
Herter talked with Eisenhower by telephone Sunday but a scheduled Sunday White House appointment was postponed.
Eisenhower had spent the weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, but returned to Washington a few hours after Herter completed a 24-hour flight from Geneva.

In addition to reporting to Eisenhower, Herter also arranged to brief legislators during the week and to deliver a radio-TV address to the nation, probably Tuesday night.
In an airport statement, Herter said the Soviet Union at Geneva "clearly revealed that its true desire is to absorb West Berlin into East Germany and to keep Germany divided until it can be brought under Soviet influence."

He backed a U. S. government statement issued Saturday voicing support for "the courageous people of West Berlin" against renewed Communist threats.

Shipwreck Kelly Hero

At Hotel Fire in Rome
ROME (AP) — Former football star John Sims (Shipwreck) Kelly — robed in Kelly green — rushed American and European tourists from an early Sunday morning hotel blaze that took three lives.

"To everyone he was the man in the green bathrobe—the man who did most to get the guests out of their rooms," said Charles M. Gilman of Gilman, Conn.
The ex-footballer at the University of Kentucky, now 49, made repeated trips back into the hotel to warn other guests and help them out.

He himself said he "didn't do anything but wake people up" after hearing the screams of hotel maids as they jumped or fell from the top story of the five-floor Ambassador Hotel on Rome's famed Via Veneto.
The dead and two injured were employees of the hotel.

A young area man was arrested for operating a vehicle without the owner's consent after he gave borough officers a wild chase, crashing red lights and speeding up to 70 miles per hour.
Robert Lindermuth, about 22 of RD 1, was released on $500 property bail following his capture by police.

The chase started at 12:20 a.m. Saturday on Conewango. Police cruiser noticed a car going south on Conewango at a high rate of speed and in an erratic manner. Giving chase, the officers followed the car through at least five red lights, the wrong way on a one-way street and speeds up to 70 miles per hour.
The fleeing culprit sped along Conewango, Fifth, Liberty, Poplar, Pine, Pennsylvania avenue, onto Third ave., Hickory, Liberty, back onto Pennsylvania avenue, past Market onto Water, and finally stopping on East.

He jumped out of the car on East and finally disappeared from the police.
Receiving a complaint from Gordon Clover, of RD 1 Warren, that his car had been stolen from Riverside Hotel, police went to the hotel. Entering they found Lindermuth, recognizing him as the man who had escaped them earlier.
He was brought to the borough jail and booked.
Throughout the chase he ignored the flashing red light on the police car.

Miami Hopes for Return of Some Normal Sunshine

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rain-soaked Miamians awoke to bright sunshine today and the weather man said improvement is in sight after nearly 20 inches of rain, most of it in the last seven days.
It already is the wettest June on record, with 19.67 inches of rain for the first 21 days, morning, including Miami, but there were broken cloud layers over most of Florida this no overcast. It was clear at Tallahassee, the state's capital, 450 miles northwest of Miami.
Thunderclouds dumped tons of water on Miami Saturday night, enough to give this record city seven consecutive days of rain and break the record of 19.54 inches set in June, 1942.
Miamians would appreciate a generous sunshine-break to mow the jungle-like growth off their lawns, and dry out their puddle-soaked shoes.
Up to today the U. S. Weather Bureau logged 19.67 inches of June rainfall for Miami by comparison with 46 inches average in a comparable period. The previous record for all of June was 19.54 inches. Eleven inches of this month's downpour came within one 72-hour period ushered in by another local weather freak — a destructive tornado Wednesday night.

Blue Cross Rate Increase of 33.3 Pct. Is Approved

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two of Pennsylvania's largest hospitalization plans will enact rate increase totaling 21 million dollars a year on Aug. 1 for subscribers in the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia areas.

The boosts were approved Friday by Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith for the Hospital Service Assn. of Western Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, and the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia.

Smith accepted the rate applications by the two groups without change. The Western Pennsylvania organization sought increase ranging from 29.8 per cent to 33.3 per cent for its various plans.

The Philadelphia plan proposed a 23 per cent across-the-board boost in all of its policies.

The increases will produce some 12 million dollars in additional annual revenue for the Pittsburgh organization and some 9 millions for the Philadelphia plan.

Smith made no decision on increases proposed by two other regional plans—Capital Hospital Service, Harrisburg, and the Hospital Service Assn. of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Wilkes-Barre.

In his order, Smith said: "The conditions under which Blue Cross must operate today are far different from those it faced when it began. To continue to exist and fulfill its fundamental purposes, Blue Cross must adapt itself to the new conditions."

He approved a Philadelphia proposal for a merit-rating system which will become effective Aug. 1, 1960, as a means of eliminating financial problems Blue Cross said it faced.

The Pittsburgh association's request to inaugurate a deductible plan also was approved by Smith. Under the proposal, a subscriber would have to pay up to $25 for a one-day hospital stay and up to $50 for two or more days of hospitalization.

The Insurance commissioner recommended that both organizations look into the merits of a New York City plan which gives limited initial approval of costs for hospital subscribers. He said the plan then requires attending physician to submit reasons why costs above this amount should be approved.

"This seems to me to be an excellent idea," Smith said. "It should go far toward eliminating cases of patients who may remain in the hospital longer than is medically necessary."

RADIO and TV

By JACK LEFLER

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Walt Disney hopes he has another Fess Parker and "Davy Crockett" in Leslie Nielsen and "The Swamp Fox."

And "The Swamp Fox" hat—a leather tricorn with foxtail plume—could start another fad among the youngsters like Davy's coonskin.

Disney is filming half a dozen one-hour episodes of "The Swamp Fox" for his "Walt Disney Presents" TV shows resuming next fall.

If "The Swamp Fox" goes over, more episodes will be made.

It relates the adventures of the Southern hero of the American Revolution—Gen. Francis Marion, who harassed the British guerrilla style.

Because of his cunning, he became known as "The Swamp Fox."

The stories are long on adventure—lots of shooting and hard riding—with a slight seasoning of humor and romance.

For authenticity's sake, Disney wanted to film them in real Southern swamp country. But investigation turned up so many snakes and other creepy critters he decided to do the shooting in California.

Filming is in progress on the Golden Oak Ranch, which Walt recently purchased as a location for outdoor pictures. It is 30 miles north of Los Angeles.

Nielsen is genial, ruggedly handsome and 6 feet 2 inches tall.

With his height, he almost measures up to such Disney giants as Parker, 6-5, Guy Williams, 6-3, Jerome Courtland, 6-4, and Tom Tryon, 6-3.

After serving in the Royal Canadian Air Force in World War II, Nielsen studied acting in Toronto and New York and then appeared in such TV shows as Studio One, Kraft Theater, Philco Playhouse, Robert Montgomery Presents and Suspense.

Measure Would Limit Municipal Spending

HARRISBURG (AP)—A limit on the amount of money municipal authorities can spend without the voters' approval has been proposed by Sen. James S. Berger, Republican floor leader.

Two measures which Berger introduced Monday would make the limit 10 per cent of the market value of taxable property in the municipalities involved.

One measure would apply the 10 per cent limit on indebtedness and issuance of bonds by the authority and the other would extend the limit to revenue bonds.

Proposals over the 10 per cent limit would have to be submitted to the voters and the question would be decided by a majority of those voting.

Machinists Union Scores Kearns at Meadville Meet

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Arthur B. White of Jamestown, N.Y., has been elected president of the Pennsylvania State Council of the International Assn. of Machinists.

The association at its final session Sunday also re-elected Joseph Phillips of Philadelphia, executive vice president; Alton Ross of Erie, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Bartram of Erie, Robert Byham of Bradford, Richard Davis of New Castle and Ed Clinch of York, district vice presidents.

Lynn Warren of Scranton was elected a new district vice president, succeeding Steve Plocha, also of Scranton.

In other action, the association favored the appropriation of $24,900 to complete a survey for a flood control project in the French Creek basin; attacked Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) for "his lack of sufficient interest and initiative" in his presentation of the flood control proposal to Congress; suggested that the Social Security age be reduced to 60; and proposed benefits of $50 a week for a year in unemployment compensation.
